GRACE PERIOD

When you are in debt, to a financial agency due to borrowed loan or mortgage with the Bank, your due payment starts on the scheduled date. However, you are given a grace period until the penalty starts. This is being done with the human consideration and goodwill.

Christians have the grace period. But it is different from what the Bank extends to its mortgage holders. The Bank's favour comes to an end. Full payment has to be paid. You are demanded Penalty too for the faulting in the payments. We Christians owe to God by way of indebtedness for our sins. But Christ's death death has fully paid the penalty. We are the beneficiaries of the grace period eternally by bearing sharers in his grace and love.

He also imparts His spirit to do His will. This makes our entire life a continuous extension of divine favour which must be claimed by faith.

God's grace gives us freedom from sins penalty. This brings us life. It creates the desire to please God and power to overcome evil. Then we say God's grace teaches us to reform sin and wrong, and helps us to live soberly, righteously and Godly (Titus 2/12)

Grace does not offer freedom to sin, it offers freedom from sin. May our Christian life be inspired by the Holy Spirit to feel the graciousness of God in our weakness. May we overcome the sin and guilt to enjoy the freedom in Christ.

I wish you all a graceful time during the holy season of Easter.

THE IMMEASURABLE LOVE OF THE FATHER

The celebration of the Paschal mysteries is the high point in the celebration of church's liturgy. Our preparations leading to these festivities take us back in time to our Jewish ancestors and brethren who celebrate the Passover as a remembrance of their passing over from the bondage in Egypt to the promised land.

The unblemished lamb that was slain and its blood that was painted on the doorposts is now replaced by Christ the Lamb of God who is slain for our sake on the Cross. The blood of the lamb spared the Israelites when the Angel of death passed through that night, the blood of the Lamb (Jesus) saves us from sin and thus impending death, for scriptures says that wages of sin is death (cf. Rom 6.23).

Year on year when the people of Israel travelled to the temple in Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover, they not only remembered their past and reconnected with God who redeemed them through Moses, but also reconnected with one another as one nation. As we celebrate the Paschal mystery, we too reconnect with God who has redeemed us through his Son Jesus, the new Moses, and we reconnect with each other in these joyful celebrations.

God's love for his people has been evident throughout salvation history. His love is even more visible through Jesus who hangs on the cross for us. There is no longer a chosen race, but His blood is shed for many who have come to believe that Jesus is our Lord and Saviour. May the celebration of Easter always remind us of the immeasurable love of our Father as He walks with us on the journey of our life. May the Risen Lord bring joy and peace to you and your kin. I wish you a very happy Easter.

GIVING INFORMATION TO YOUR CHILDREN

How parents spend time together with children?

There is a built-in frustration of parenthood in the daily struggle to keep our children active, engaged and responsible. As parents most of our moments with our children are spent asking them to do and don't do things. For eg: Clean your room, keep things in order, make your bed, wash your plate, have bath, do your homework, don't use mobile, don't throw things around, don't watch TV too much, don't fight with your brother/sister etc.

Usually, parents first say it politely, then shout, later increase their volume until finally, out of frustration, they hit or punish their children.

Often, children also don't care much or don't respond; show deaf ears. The more you say, the more they resist. Some children go off into one of their day dreams. Some of them ignore or worse, defy.

Even though children don't respond, they are listening. Children, even little ones are learning every minute of the day. This is an opportunity for parents to give lots of information to their level and help them to behave well, learn and do things that are acceptable to all.

When children are given information, they can usually figure out for themselves what needs to be done. Eg: 'Plants are drying, they need to be watered', 'Waste belongs to dustbin', 'Walls are not for writing, you can draw on paper or book', 'Dirty clothes belong to laundry basket'. Similarly, you can give information on washing hands, watching excessive TV, using mobiles, how to keep one safe etc. Before that, parents have to educate themselves and be role models to their children. Take a teaching moment and give information briefly.

Parents also like giving children information because the child seems to experience it as an act of confidence in himself. He says, 'Grown-up trusts me to act responsibly once I have the facts.'

Giving information is a lot easier than accusation, shouting, blaming or punishing. In a sense you are giving a child a gift he can use forever.

Treat your children as dignified small human beings by giving them information that they can use now and rest of their lives. Only thing, you have to repeat the information many times. Repeated information conveys a far different message than repeated accusation, blames and punishment.

By giving information parents save lots of energy and time. It is also less stressful, more effective with your children and supportive of yourself.

TRUE MEANING OF VALENTINES ISLOVE

Love, when a little girl puts her energy to give dad a head massage.
Its love, when a wife makes tea for husband and take a sip before him.
Its love, when a mother gives her son the best piece of cake.
Its love, when your friend holds your hand tightly on a slippery road.
Its love, when your brother messages you and asks did you reach home on time.
Love is not just a guy holding a girl and going around the city.
Love is when u send a small messages to your friends to make them smile
Love is actually a name of "care" ..

The Rise of Startups in India and its challenges

Startup is defined as “a young company that is just beginning to develop.” It is brought into function either because the founder(s) has come up with a unique solution (a product, software, or service) to erase a complicated problem or because they have found a more efficient way to recreate and distribute something that was already there.

The Evolution of Startup Culture in India:

India is a young country, with 65% of its population falling under the age bracket of 25 to 35 years. The rise of startups in India didn't happen overnight, but slowly, over a gradual period. However, if one were to pin down the exact year the startup revolution took shape in India, it would be 2008.

We all know about the big recession that hit the world in the year 2008 and forced businesses around the globe to reallocate their resources and lay off employees in large numbers. In India, it mostly affected the IT professionals, who grew extremely fearful for their jobs and started looking for different means to keep themselves afloat.

This fear, along with an insatiable aspiration to prove one's mettle, shook the young nation and had its people break the shackles of mediocrity and rise to the challenge.

The Startup Ecosystem Today:

Startups are being widely recognised as important engines for growth and jobs generation. Through innovation and scalable technology, startups can generate impactful solutions, and thereby act as vehicles for socio-economic development and transformation.

The story is always the same: somebody, usually belonging to a middle-class family, starts building upon a genius idea. They work hard, in-fact very hard, to put their idea into practice, get investors' attention, gather productive human resource, and establish a personal brand.

In India, startups are known for their flexible work culture, late-night parties, and an environment that encourages employees to treat one another equally. According to Inc42, “India boasts more than 6,000 startups and Prime Minister is confident that 44% of them are based in Tier II and Tier III cities. And their numbers are only rising.”

Opportunities Available:

Apart from it, India's economy, demography and government's active support provides a wide scope for establishing a thriving startup environment.

Growing Indian Economy:

Just before sudden disruption by Covid-19 pandemic, the Indian economy continued to grow and purchasing power was increasing steadily. As economic recovery is expected in the short-term, the rising consumption will be driven by the growth of upper-middle income and high-income segments of the population. Thus, the size of Indian market provides ample opportunity for startups to grow.

Active Government Support:

Government of India launched the flagship initiative, "Startup India" in 2016. The program envisages to build a strong ecosystem that is conducive for the growth of startup businesses and kickstarted an entrepreneurship revolution. Further, the overhaul of the digital payments ecosystem is being led by State innovation (NPCI), with Aadhaar, Jan Dhan, UPI, and India Stack.

High Scope in Rural Areas:

As the majority of India's population still resides in rural areas, many startups have focused towards providing ease of living in rural areas.

For example: FIA Global - with a network of 26,000 banking agents - is using Artificial Intelligence (AI) to deliver financial products and services such as remittance services and access to credit in rural areas, and has reached over 34 million customers.

Top Successful Startups:

As of the beginning of January 2022, India has recognized more than 61,000 startups, thus having the 3rd largest startup ecosystem after the US and China.

Many Indian startups are booming and favouring the younger generation to work and gain experience in their fields of interest. Some of the most well-known startups in India:-

1. Cred - It is a platform where one is rewarded with "cred coins" for paying their credit card bills. These coins can be later redeemed for various discounts and offers.
2. Skit.ai- It provides AI software as a service and aims to be the top AI platform.
3. Pharm Easy - It is a Mumbai-based startup focusing on the health care, diagnostics, and pharmaceutical industries, which helps patients connect with local diagnostic centres, assists with medicine delivery, and takes care of other medical needs.
4. Swiggy- It is a food delivery platform.
5. Meesho – It is a Bangalore-based startup that covers the eCommerce and social media industries.

Associated Challenges:

Issues Emanating From Regional Imbalance:

India is a highly diverse country with a plethora of cultures, languages, ethnicities and religions. Due to this, the startups' understanding of them is often limited to certain regions. In that sense, comparative advantages are linked to specific regions.

Digital Divide:

As nearly 70% of the Indian population lives in rural areas, the customers of the mass market tend to come from low-income backgrounds in villages. This often discourages many startups to come up with a pan-India approach.

Issues of Funding:

For running a startup, a significant amount of working capital is required. Many startups, especially at early stages, are bootstrapped, i.e. self-funded through the founders' own savings, or using capital from friends and family.

Hiring Challenge:

For many job-seekers, joining a startup as an employee is not an attractive career option, due to the inherent risk that the startup might fail. In addition to this, many job applicants are not sufficiently skilled. Startups see a gap between the knowledge taught to students in colleges and the knowledge needed for the jobs, especially in sectors in which technologies change at a fast pace.

In present times startups in India are witnessing a golden chapter in the history of Indian entrepreneurship. Today's Indian youth isn't afraid of casting aside their 9 to 5 jobs to see their dreams take flight and become a living reality. They're all set to break the ceiling to attain real powerful leadership roles. More than the idea, it is the culture of a workplace that decides whether or not a startup succeeds.

ICYM Milagres, keeping up to its tradition, organized the Christmas Crib and Star competition to all its parishioners.

The format of the competition was kept very simple: Creativity, craftsmanship, decoration and originality was given prime importance. Every participant had to register entries in Church Office.

An overwhelming response was received. The judge along with priests and ICYM Members personally visited all the venues of the cribs and stars that were registered for the evaluation.

The winners were awarded with the prize on 24th Dec 2022, after the festive mass. We congratulate winners and thank all the participants.

“Taize Prayer” organized by ICYM Milagres Youth

On the occasion of Lenten season, ICYM Milagres Unit Organized “Taize Prayer” on Saturday, 25th March 2023 at Senate hall. The members of ICYM along with sacristan decorated the Holy Cross beautifully with lightened lamps and brick-based structures. The Taize Prayer was led by Revelations Choir team, which consisted of spiritual hymns and word of God. Dr. Suraj Francis Noronha introduced the Taize Prayer and taught the hymns before the prayer. Prayerful session amidst the lit lamps gave all a wonderful and divine experience with Jesus. Many Youths and parishioners took active participation in the prayer. In the end, Youths and parishioners came forward to honour the holy cross.

Scholarships for Students:

Scholarships provide financial support for students to help pay for a school and college degree. These funds enable students to obtain education they may not have access to otherwise. Scholarships go further than being financial aid for many students. They reward deserving students with the ability to afford higher education. This could help them pursue a college degree. They bring brand awareness of sponsoring companies to students who want to jumpstart their career.

They may attract students to those sponsoring organizations for possible employment. Scholarships create community support and engage more people with brands who may not have other connections to them.

To support the education of students coming from these communities, different central and state government departments offer dedicated scholarships, often referred to as minority scholarships. These scholarships can be both merit-based and means-based.

Below are some of the scholarships provided by the State and Central Government:

1. Pre Matric Scholarships.
2. Post Matric Scholarships.
3. Merit cum means Scholarships for professional and technical courses CS.
4. Fee Reimbursement.
5. Vidyasiri (Food & Accommodation Scheme).
6. Begum Hazrat Mahal National Scholarship.
7. National Overseas Scholarship for Minority Students.

Below are some of the scholarships provided by the Private Sector Organizations:

1. Sitaram Jindal Foundation Scholarship.

LOVE, TIME & KINDNESS

When our time on earth is done, "Money or material things will not matter. "But the love, time and kindness we've given others will shine and live on forever.

WHAT TO DO AFTER 12th?

From last 18 years, I have been visiting parishes and schools to give career guidance. Having met a number of parents and the students I have come to know that majority of the parents and students do not have proper basic knowledge of higher education. Most of them join degree courses because their friends have joined. The peer group mentality (sheep mentality) leads students into desperation and hence they regret the chosen career without suitable job opportunities. Eventually, they realize that the course which they have studied has no relevance to the job market demands and also they feel that there is no connection what they have studied and what they do. Hence, they regret for having wasted time, energy and money. Therefore, this is a small effort to make aware the parents and the students about the career options and job opportunities after PUC or plus two education.

Milagres College

Especially for English Language Lovers..

Can any one tell the difference between 'Completed' and 'Finished'? No dictionary has ever been able to define the difference between 'Complete' and 'Finished.' However, in a linguistic conference, held in London England, Sun Sherman an Indian American, was the clever winner. His final challenge was this. His response was: When you marry the right woman, you are 'Complete.' If you marry the wrong woman, you are 'Finished.'

And when the right woman catches you with the wrong woman, you are 'Completely Finished.' His answer received a five minute standing ovation.

WHY DO WE DO NAMASTE?

Namaste is combination of "Namah" and "Te" which translates to "I bow to you".

The spiritual meaning of Namaste is deeper. The word "Namaha" brings down all your egos when you are among others.

Namaste suggests that a person extends friendship in humility...

St Aloysius Ward Act of Humanity

Diana Baretto aged 47 years from Koteshwar Parish, Kundapur is an inspiration not only for Catholics to which community she belongs but to the entire human race.

At the tender age of 14, she was paralyzed with only the use of her hands. But she has been going through this difficult life journey with positivity and has always remained in good spirit.

It was at Christmas time that one of our ward members shared her story on our ward group and appeal for help. There was a generous response from the ward members keeping in mind the Christmas spirit of 'loving - sharing - caring'. The amount collected was remitted to her which she gratefully acknowledged.
